this book offers an in depth study of iconic literary narratives and images of religious transformation and secularisation in the netherlands during the 1960s and 1970s jesseka batteau shows how gerard reve jan wolters and maarten t hart texts and performances can be understood as instances of religious and post religious memory with a broad public impact they contributed to a widely shared perspective on the dutch religious past and a collective understanding of what secularisation consists of this uniquely interdisciplinary approach combines insights from literary studies memory studies media studies and religious studies and traces the complex dynamics of the circulation of memory and meaning between literary texts mass media and embodied performances within a post religious society dutch cinema when discussed is typically treated only in terms of pre war films or documentaries leaving post war fictional film largely understudied at the same time a hollandse school a term first coined in the 1980s has developed through deadpan ironic films like those of director and actor alex van warmerdam using seminal theories on humour and comedy this book explores a number of dutch films using the notion of categories such as low class comedies neurotic romances deliberate camp and grotesque satire with its original approach this study makes surprising connections between dutch films from various decades korte besprekingen van de werken van de nederlandse auteur 1944 in this book anthony van den buekel faces the question of whether physics and religion are compatible his answer is as sincere as it is convincing the book is worth reading just for the mere fact that it explains the new physics in simple language a handy sized upbeat guide to novels and stories written in dutch and flemish which are available in english includes entries for maps and atlases
