proposes a theoretically rich treatment of temporality within exile as gerundive time this book is a philosophical reflection on the experience of time from within exile its focus on temporality is unique as most literature on exile focuses on the experience of space as exile involves dislocation and moods of nostalgia and utopia marcia sá cavalcante schuback proposes that in exile time is experienced neither as longing back to the lost past nor as wanting a future to come but rather as a present without anchors or supports she articulates this present as a gerundive mode in which the one who is in exile discovers herself simply being exposed to the uncanny experience of having lost the past and not having a future to explore this she establishes a conversation among three authors whose work has exemplified this sense of gerundive time the german philosopher martin heidegger the french writer and essayist maurice blanchot and the brazilian writer clarice lispector the book does not aim to discuss how these authors understand the relation between time and exile but presents a conversation with them in relation to this question that reflects new aspects in their work attempting to think and express this difficult sense of time from within exile time in exile engages with the relation between thought and language and between philosophy and literature departing from concrete existential questions sá cavalcante schuback reveals new philosophical and theoretical modes to understand what it means to be present in times of exile it is very rare that one can find in philosophy a book that has been written neither as a commentary nor as an exegesis of the authors in question but rather as an original and thought provoking reflection in which the author is the main philosophical voice in the book maría del rosario acosta lópez coeditor of aesthetic reason and imaginative freedom fredrich schiller and philosophy
