korean literature through the korean wave engages with the rising interest in both the korean wave and korean language learning by incorporating korean wave cultural content especially k dramas films and songs to underline and support the teaching of korean literature it combines both premodern and modern texts including poetry novels philosophical treatises and even comics to showcase the diversity of korean literature particular care has been taken to include the voices of those marginalised in the often male elite dominated discourse on korean literature in particular this book also distinguishes itself by extending the usual breadth of what is considered modern korean literature up until the present day including texts published as recently as 2017 many of these texts are very relevant for recent discourse in korean affairs such as the obsession with physical appearance the metoo movement and multiculturalism this textbook is aimed at b1 b2 level and intermediate mid students of korean on the one hand the textbook introduces students to seeing beyond korean literature as a monolithic entity giving a taste of its wonderful richness and diversity on the other hand it provides an entry point into discussions on korean contemporary society in which the text and associated media extracts provides the catalyst for more in depth analysis and debate for the past decade the korean film industry has enjoyed a renaissance with innovative storytelling and visceral effects korean films not only have been commercially viable in the domestic and regional markets but also have appealed to cinephiles everywhere on the international festival circuit this book provides both an industrial and an aesthetic account of how the korean film industry managed to turn an economic crisis triggered in part by globalizing processes in the world film industry into a fiscal and cultural boom jinhee choi examines the ways in which korean film production companies backed by affluent corporations and venture capitalists concocted a variety of winning production trends through close analyses of key films Choi demonstrates how contemporary Korean cinema portrays issues immediate to its own Korean audiences while incorporating the transnational aesthetics of Hollywood and other national cinemas such as Hong Kong and Japan. Appendices include data on box office rankings, numbers of films produced and released, market shares, and film festival showings.

Kyu Bo Yi (1168–1241), the greatest of the classical Korean poets, was born into a very turbulent period of history when the Koryŏ kingdom was threatened from the north by barbarians and from within by the ongoing struggle for supremacy among the various factions. His poems, confessional and transcendent, describe moments of personal illumination in the course of everyday life.

Our lives are twofold in that they can be both lonely and not lonely; the whole world is twofold and it consists of men and women. When a man meets a woman and together they create a oneness, it is called love. The infinite twofoldness of love, however, frustrates lovers who want to become and remain onefold. Twofold Song talks about love and desire to show us that our lives and the world we live in are composed of twofolds.
