there were all these maddening permutations of what could be that were not to be ignored yet there was also a stunning beauty to all of this that was so profound that one could not help but love every facet of every conceivability whether realized or beyond reach there was so much to capture even in stillness that was akin to grasping at grains of sand so fine as to elude the grip it was all so intricate so overwhelming and so rapid and nothing ever ceased in its glorious transformation there was an exhilaration in being engrossed in the details that evaded capture and in being oneself ensconced in constant flux so as to surrender without recourse to what was to come there is no instance that ever becomes the destination no circumstance the definitive possibility and one for that very fact could scarcely help but be filled with a heartening love for all of creation the moment after all was always and thus there was no before no instance preceding the instance in the first volume of scotty s life the life times of scotty bridlington we left him living in rio de janerio in brazil working as a personal trainer pt for the brazilian soap star roberto after they had met in london and at the beginning of a romance with roberto s housekeeper fernanda better known as nanda who was working and living in the same house it had taken scotty a little while to settle down in his new environment and role after leaving the uk but the very beautiful nanda had seen too it that scotty had everything he needed scotty had been working in london after qualifying as a pt at college about two years after leaving the british army and finding himself in belfast fighting against the prov ira he had been wounded in the leg whilst on patrol on the streets of belfast and spent nearly eighteen months recovering including from a bout of depression whilst he wondered and decided what he was going to do with himself for the rest of his young life cultures as well as individuals continually balance the demands of nostalgia and sustainability as they construct historical narratives of futures worth preserving the aim of this volume is to explore those narratives and the underlying assumptions which inform them drawing on a range of disciplines from the humanities and social sciences the chapters investigate cultural assumptions about which aspects of the past deserve to be remembered and which aspects of the present should be sustained for the future in the process they reveal how contemporary definitions of sustainability are informed by a nostalgic yearning for the past and how nostalgia is motivated by a reciprocal longing to sustain the past for the future
