an eviscerating look at the state of journalism in the age of the 24 hour news cycle by a pulitzer prize winning television critic and a veteran news correspondent no time to think focuses on the insidious and increasing portion of the news media that due to the dangerously extreme speed at which it is produced is only half thought out half true and lazily repeated from anonymous sources interested in selling opinion and wild speculation as news these news item can easily gain exposure today assuming a life of their own while making a mockery of journalism and creating casualties of cool deliberation and thoughtful discourse much of it is picked up gratuitously and given resonance online or through cnn fox news msnbc and other networks which must in this age of the 24 hour news cycle feed the beast in dissecting this frantic news blur no time to think breaks down a number of speed driven blunders from the insider perspective of charles feldman who spent 20 years as a cnn correspondent as well as the outsider perspective of howard rosenberg who covered the coverage for 25 years as tv critic for the los angeles times no time to think demonstrates how today's media blitz scrambles the public's perspective in ways that potentially shape how we think, act, and react. As a global society, the end result affects not only the media and the public but also the government leaders we trust to make carefully considered decisions on our behalf. Featuring interviews ranging from former NBC news anchor Tom Brokaw to internet doyenne Arianna Huffington to PBS stalwart Jim Lehrer to CNN chief Jonathan Klein to a host of former presidential press secretaries and other keen-eyed media watchers, this incisive work measures lasting fallout from the 24-hour news cycle beginning in 1980 with the arrival of CNN right up to the present.

When in a crisis, the characters in these stories must keep their heads if they are going to survive, whether dealing with aliens, monsters, a psychotic killer, or finding themselves stranded in time. Now is definitely no time to panic. P.P. stories include P.P. The Storm Keepers, when three strangers arrive, one with an uncanny ability to predict the weather; are they truly to be trusted by the people of the village? P.P. The Keepers of the Lights, the monsters who live in the woods watch and wait for their chance to escape and attack the people who live in the village. P.P. The Sheriff's Son, people are being killed in the small town of Brackford, but they aren't acting like they're dead. P.P. Traffic Stop, Angela must face her worst nightmare with a psychotic killer after what was supposed to be a routine traffic stop. P.P. The Lightning Tunnel, the newest attraction at Thundering Sands Amusement Park isn't all it appears to be when Mason is transported back in time 55 years; will he ever find his way back home? P.

The United States has spent two productive decades implementing a variety of prevention programs, while these efforts have slowed the rate of infection. Challenges remain; the United States must refocus its efforts to contain the spread of HIV and AIDS in a way that would prevent as many new HIV infections as possible. No Time to Lose presents the Institute of Medicine's framework for a national prevention strategy.

An intensely moving and personal record of the experiences of children who were evacuated in World War II.
