the basic tenet of cognitive linguistics is that every linguistic expression is a construal relation the first section of this volume focuses on issues of such construal and presentation of information including figure ground relations image schematic structures and the role of syntactic constructions in information structure in sections two and three papers are presented on cross categorial polysemy between lexical and grammatical uses of a morpheme and between different grammatical senses and on the relationship between earlier lexical senses and later grammatical ones the final section of the volume brings together studies which shed further light on transitivity and argument structure the study of transitivity necessarily entails exploration of the relationship between syntactic constructions and the pragmatics and semantics conveyed by such constructions as a whole this collection of papers gives new evidence on the complexity and motivation of the mapping between linguistic form and function and offers a wealth of new directions for research on the construction of meaning at every level of the sentence this volume is the publication and analysis of the tomb of pharaoh seneb kay ca 1650 1600 bce and a cemetery of associated tombs at abydos all attributable to a group of kings of egypt s second intermediate period the tomb of seneb kay has provided the first known king s tomb of pharaonic egypt that included decorated imagery in the burial chamber that evidence presented in full color and discussed in detail in the volume allows us to identify this previously unknown ruler along with a group of seven similar tombs that can be attributed to an upper egyptian dynasty that survived for approximately half a century during a period of pronounced territorial fragmentation in the Nile valley the book examines the architecture and artifacts associated with these tombs as well as presents an osteological analysis of the bodies of seneb kay and the other anonymous individuals buried at south abydos seneb kay s skeletonized mummy was recovered inside his tomb and provides a rare opportunity to examine the body of a king of this era he is the earliest substantially preserved body of an egyptian king to survive in the archaeological record and the first known egyptian pharaoh whose skeletal remains show that he died in battle the analysis of his death in a military encounter along with insights from the other skeletal remains indicates a line of kings whose rise to power was associated with their social background as members of the military elite the book examines the wider implications of these bodies in terms of the pronounced militarization of society in the second intermediate period seneb kay s tomb has also provided extensive evidence through its use of reused blocks bearing decoration of earlier elite and royal monuments at abydos the combination of evidence provides a new archaeological and historical window into the political situation that defined egypt s second intermediate period
