art practice as research second edition continues to present a compelling argument that the creative and cultural inquiry undertaken by artists is a form of research the text explores themes practices and contexts of artistic inquiry and positions them within the discourse of research sullivan argues that legitimate research goals can be achieved by choosing different methods than those offered by the social sciences the common denominator in both approaches is the attention given to rigor and systematic inquiry artists emphasize the role of the imaginative intellect in creating criticizing and constructing knowledge that is not only new but also has the capacity to transform human understanding institutional critique is best known through the critical practice that developed in the late 1960s and early 1970s by artists who presented radical challenges to the museum and gallery system since then it has been pushed in new directions by new generations of artists registering and responding to the global transformations of contemporary life the essays collected in this volume explore this legacy and develop the models of institutional critique in ways that go well beyond the field of art interrogating the shifting relations between institutions and critique the contributors to this volume analyze the past and present of institutional critique and propose lines of future development engaging with the work of philosophers and political theorists such as michel foucault judith butler gilles deleuze antonio negri paolo virno and others these essays reflect on the mutual enrichments between critical art practices and social movements and elaborate the conditions for politicized critical practice in the twenty first century artistry in social work practice deals with the aesthetics of helping practice there is a focus on the features of artistry that give effectiveness to the work of assisting people with their problems in social living and improving their personal and communal welfare consideration is given to such elements as the use of self form relationships creativity communication style performance and to aesthetic and spiritual experiences as part of the helping process this book is an alert to the much neglected but crucial artistic aspect of social work max siporin a long time innovator in thinking about social work calls practitioners to engage more deeply the aesthetic creative dynamic symbolic and spiritual qualities of our helping relationships and transformative activities ed r canda this is a book that has been badly needed in social work siporin has given the artistic dimension of social work practice its just due it is a practice that can be done with a creativity skill style and wisdom which achieve a helping experience that is a thing of beauty ed sherman
