this is the first complete modern survey of the institution of slavery in brazil and how it affected the lives of enslaved africans it is based on major new research on the institution of slavery and the role of africans and their descendants in brazil this book aims to introduce the reader to this latest research both to elucidate the brazilian experience and to provide a basis for comparisons with all other american slave systems before the portuguese royal court moved to its south american colony in 1808 books and periodicals had a very limited circulation there it was only when brazilian ports were opened to foreign trade that the book trade began to flourish and printed matter became more easily available to readers whether for pleasure for instruction or for political reasons this book brings together a collection of original articles on the transnational relations between brazil and europe especially england and france in the domain of literature and print culture from its early stages to the end of the 1920s it covers the time when it was forbidden to print in brazil and portugal strictly controlled which books were sent to the colony through the quick flourishing of a transnational printing industry and book market after 1822 to the shift of hegemony in the printing business from foreign to brazilian hands at the beginning of the twentieth century sandra guardini vasconcelos is professor of english and comparative literature at the university of sao paulo
