Europe and the European Union are unavoidable if ambiguous political references in the post-Yugoslav space. This volume interrogates the forms and implications of the increasingly potent symbolic nexus that has developed between non-heterosexual sexualities, LGBT activism, and Europeanisation. In all of the Yugoslav successor states, contributors to this book show how the long EU accession process disseminates discursive tools employed in LGBT activist struggles for human rights and equality. This creates a linkage between Europeanisation and gay emancipation, which elevates certain forms of gay activist engagement and perhaps also non-heterosexuality more generally to a measure of democracy, progress, and modernity. At the same time, it relegates practices of intolerance to the LGBT community to the status of non-European, primitivist 'other' who is inevitably positioned in the patriarchal past that should be left behind.
