this book offers the assessment of myanmar s societal changes development aspects and political situation over the course of the nation s short lived democratic transition disrupted by the coup d état on 1 february 2021 a multitude of authors with different expertise add new dimensions of analysis to provide a foundation for any future international cooperation in myanmar s center and peripheries the military s institutionalization of its influence and control in political economic and social affairs has negatively affected the safety security and peace of people and their communities at the periphery this in turn has led the people to undertake local grassroots initiatives towards securing a genuine democratic transition at the local and national level the chapters probe into myanmar s transition and political crisis through in depth discussion on the issues such as but not limited to state fragility community resilience political leadership ethnic women s organizations human security education equality idps and non state actors ethnic community based health organizations the 2020 election peace process development issues the coup s destruction and a new born unity the book covers an important collection of inputs from young and prominent scholars alike offering a valuable resource for general readers students and practitioners the editors present this volume as a vital collection to literature at a time of heated political crisis and societal responses on her current course since the contributors highlight the state of myanmar by also focusing on the margins the grassroots and the recent coup myanmar s economic trajectory has shifted across various governmental regimes transitioning from socialist to democratic systems and from planned to market economy structures the economic policies implemented by successive governments often lacked coherence and were characterized by ad hoc measures aimed at short term solutions rather than addressing underlying issues policymakers since 1989 have endeavoured to guide myanmar towards a market oriented economy characterized by what could be termed the burmese myanmar way to market economy which includes significant restrictions and controls both the military backed union solidarity development party usdp and civilian led national league for democracy nld administrations made significant efforts to enhance liberalization and strengthen market economic principles despite multidimensional challenges including inadequate capacities for policy formulation and over reliance on past domestic experiences rather than international lessons all these reforms and economic pillars established through intellect and hard work to ensure liberalization and a market economy collapsed under the state administration council regime following the military coup of 1 february 2021 effective policy formulation and implementation are pivotal for myanmar s economic trajectory and policymakers must navigate historical practices and global standards with discernment fostering policies that promote transparency accountability and inclusivity while adapting to feedback and interconnected economic realities myanmar has faced numerous divisions that hinder its democratization and peacebuilding processes since emerging out of decades of military dictatorship the coup d état in 2021 terminated myanmar s limited and nascent democratization under the civilian leadership of the national league for democracy nld not only did the coup regime resurface old struggles but also created new ones against the backdrop of myanmar s changing political landscapes from military to quasi civilian to civilian rule in 2016 and back to military rule in 2021 the book discusses the various forms of interconnected struggles both old and new in this process the contributed chapters come together to highlight the changing dynamics of stakeholders relations between agents and beneficiaries and the generated evolutionary processes in myanmar s democratization and its reversal this book brings an even mix of researchers both within and outside of myanmar to critically discuss how different agents and their interactions in the form of center periphery as well as state non state relations continuously shape today s political landscape its interdisciplinary composition also invites readers from various backgrounds to grasp with engaged research that identifies the various challenges and addresses ways in which to facilitate change from local and international perspectives the republic of korea s global expansion has been mirrored by its interest and presence in southeast asia from trade investment aid tourism to the cultural korean wave its various roles have blossomed and its influence has grown the asean region has not only affected korean foreign policy but also many aspects of korean life from the migration of southeast asian industrial workers to marriages and the curricula of academic institutions this volume explores various aspects of these new relationships and their importance to all concerned parties it brings together a group of specialists who have documented the growing interlocking roles between korea and asean and its constituent states in detail these developments have profound implications for relations in the east and southeast asian regions and for the world as a whole the asia pacific countries are in various stages of socio economic development geo political factors affect the pace of development of the countries in the area also referred to as the colombo plan region tvet s acknowledged importance in the efforts to improve the quality of life of its people is a common motif in the book the twenty articles by tvet experts and practitioners as well as policy makers provide the reader researcher with a comprehensive appreciation of the respective tvet problems and issues in the countries included the book is the latest attempt to put under one cover both macro and micro views of tvet underscoring its current status emerging trends best practices and challenges that beset individual systems the book presents a comprehensive body of tvet information for use as a handy reference both by serious researchers and national policymakers also by practitioners on how tvet plays a pivotal role in national socio economic development the experiences shared can be models of systems that worked learning from them and avoiding the pitfalls they further emphasize that no one solution fi ts all when addressing the gamut of challenges and concerns the resources required and the preferred mindset when implementing tvet reforms india shares 1643 km long border with myanmar that passes through the northeastern states of arunachal pradesh manipur mizoram and nagaland although cross border contact and movement of people are known througout but they have not led to any strong economic interdependence between the regions across the border so far a long list of countries labelled outcasts pariahs and rogues have failed to meet international standards of good conduct in the cold war years rhodesia israel chile taiwan and south africa among others featured among the ranks of the disreputable in modern world politics the serious sinners not only include states terrorists rebels criminals and mercenaries also participate in the great game of who gets what when and how highlighting the rules of good behaviour that both state and non state actors have violated geldenhuys takes a novel approach that breaks through the narrow parameters of the rogue state paradigm and of other state centric perspectives the biennial digital review of asia pacific is a comprehensive guide to the state of practice and trends in information and communication technologies for development ict4d in asia pacificthis third edition 2007 2008 covers 31 countries and economies including north korea for the first time each country chapter presents key ict policies applications and initiatives for national development in addition five thematic chapters provide a synthesis of some of the key issues in ict4d in the region including mobile and wireless technologies risk communication intellectual property regimes and localization the authors are drawn from government academe industry and civil society providing a broad perspective on the use of icts for human development the state in myanmar is a totally revised and expanded and updated version of the state in burma 1987 with additional chapters covering the last twenty years of myanmar s political history it attempts to explain the country s current politics in the light of the historical evolution of state society relations in myanmar since the pre colonial kings through the colonial era to the current and third post colonial regime in this strategically important and little studied south east asian nation the book explains the dramatic and unpredicted collapse of the previous socialist regime and the attempts by new and old political forces to wrest control of the state from a revitalised and increasingly confident military government myanmar s state builders have applied varying ideas in their attempts to fashion a stable political order in an often fractious and far from unified nation and the state in myanmar places those experiences in comparative perspective reforming public sector organizations their structures policies processes and practices is notoriously difficult in rich and poor countries alike even in the most favorable of circumstances the scale and complexity of the tasks to be undertaken are enormous requiring levels of coordination and collaboration that may be without precedent for those involved entirely new skills may need to be acquired by tens of thousands of people compounding these logistical challenges is the pervasive reality that circumstances often are not favorable to large scale reform whether a country is rich or poor the choice is not whether but how to reform the public sector how optimal design characteristics robust political support and enhanced organizational capability to implement and adapt will be forged over time this edited volume helps address the how question it brings together reform experiences in public financial management and the public sector more broadly from eight country cases in east asia cambodia indonesia lao people s democratic republic malaysia myanmar papua new guinea thailand and vietnam these countries are at different stages of reform most of the reform efforts would qualify as successes while some had mixed outcomes and others could be considered failures the focus of each chapter is less on formally demonstrating success or not of specific reform but on documenting how reformers maneuvered within different country contexts to achieve specific outcomes despite the great difficulty in reforming the public sector decision makers can draw renewed energy and inspiration learning from those countries sectors and subnational spaces where substantive not merely cosmetic change has been achieved and they can identify what pitfalls to avoid
