flashes in the night captures the tragic story of the sinking of the Estonia in dark cold Baltic waters on September 28, 1994. Caught in a storm during an overnight trip between Tallinn, Estonia and Stockholm, Sweden, the ship sank in a matter of minutes. Debate continues over whether the cause was structural or sabotage, but the fact remains 852 souls were lost at sea in Europe's worst civilian disaster. Nearly one third of those who escaped the ship died of hypothermia. A twenty-nine-year-old Swedish entrepreneur and a pretty nineteen-year-old Swedish girl are a major focus of this dramatic account. On that night when Kent Harstedt met Sara Hedrenius on the top rail of the sinking ship, they made a date for dinner in Stockholm if they survived through that endless darkness huddled in near-freezing water in their raft. They told each other jokes to stay awake and alive. Their date made world headlines. This is their story and the story of the young British adventurer Paul Barney along with riveting accounts of others who were a part of this harrowing life-or-death survival epic.

Hermann Broch, born on November 1, 1886, in Vienna, Austria, and died on May 30, 1951, in New Haven, Connecticut, was an Austrian writer, one of the greatest modernist writers of all time, nominated for the Nobel Prize in Literature. Hermann Broch is a novelist of the stature of Joyce and Proust. The Death of Virgil is considered by many as his masterpiece. The novel recreates the last day of the poet Virgil's life hours during which he considers destroying the aeneid and reflects on his life dedicated to art the death of virgil is part of the famous collection 1001 books you must read before you die

it is the reign of the emperor augustus and publius vergilius maro the poet of the aeneid and caesar s enchanter has been summoned to the palace where he will shortly die out of the last hours of virgil s life and the final stirrings of his consciousness the austrian writer hermann broch fashioned one of the great works of twentieth century modernism a book that embraces an entire world and renders it with an immediacy that is at once sensual and profound begun while broch was imprisoned in a german concentration camp the death of virgil is part historical novel and part prose poem and always an intensely musical and immensely evocative meditation on the relation between life and death the ancient and the modern after more than a century of study we know more about john keats than we do about most writers of the past but we still cannot fully grasp the magical processes by which he created some of the most celebrated poems in all of english literature this volume containing 140 photographs of keats s own manuscripts offers the most concrete evidence we have of the way in which his thoughts and feelings were transmuted into art the rough first drafts in particular are full of information about what occurred if not in keats s mind at least on paper when he had pen in hand the headlong rush of ideas coming so fast that he had no time to punctuate or even form the letters of his words the stumbling places where he had to begin again several times before the words resumed their flow the efforts to integrate story character and theme with the formal requirements of rhyme and meter each revision teaches the inquiring reader something about keats s poetic practice several of the manuscripts are unique authoritative sources while others constitute our best texts among multiple existing versions they reveal much about the maturation of the poet's creativity during four years of his brief life between on receiving a curious shell 1815 and to autumn 1819 above all they show us what is lost when penmanship yields to the printed page what helen vendler in her insightful essay on the manuscripts calls the living hand of keats these sharply reproduced facsimiles provide compelling visual evidence of a mortal author in the act of composing immortal works
