nearly the whole of america s partisan politics centers on a single question can markets solve our social problems and for years this question has played out ferociously in the debates about how we should educate our children from the growth of vouchers and charter schools to the implementation of no child left behind policy makers have increasingly turned to market based models to help improve our schools believing that private institutions because they are competitively driven are better than public ones with the public school advantage christopher a and sarah theule lubiński offer powerful evidence to undercut this belief showing that public schools in fact out perform private ones this historic book may have numerous typos and missing text purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher not indexed not illustrated 1873 edition excerpt an anonymous friend has sent us the following lines which presuming on the torite s permission we insert in this place the sceptic s dream it was the festival of s clement i was at home and wandering with a friend among the stately ruins of the colosseum the gentle autumnal breeze brought to our ears the sound of distant church bells said my friend you i replied the church itself is interesting i grant you from its ancient architecture and frescoes but as a work of art alone at least to me the legendary meanings of the paintings on its walls are to me as mythical as the history of romulus and remus no i leave such puerilities to women and children with you was the answer opening his english prayer book sunday i fancied you might venerate a church in which the remains repose of a saint commemorated by our communion and he pointed to the line in the kalendar marked nov 23 s clement bp and martyr i answered i all communions are much the same to me i went to church last sunday because the rest of my party did so but you must not take for granted in consequence that such is my habit christianity may have effected much i do not say it has not but civilization has done more and we of the 19 th century the age of free thought cannot again put ourselves in leading strings look at these piers was this gigantic pile erected by christians after all we are a set of pigmies excerpt from saint clement pope and martyr and his basilica in rome in a vineyard about a mile from rome the foundation walls of a large villa the chambers of which are filled up with masses of stucco ornaments and coloured plaster as indeed the whole soil with bits of pompeian red fragments of various and rare marbles mosaics glass of so many colours that we wonder at the profusion pottery from the coarsest to the fine thin polished red clay and more rarely seals and gold ornaments attest the mansion of a rich pagan family in a corner of the enclosure are ruined columbaria probably for their dependants with broken cinerary urns still in their niches and elsewhere a vast massive round monument of stone for the head of the house who left to posterity a single sepulchral chamber in the centre a white marble slab still preserved though detached from the building gives us the title about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
