this book reflects on the public policies programmes and regulatory frameworks that are taking a rights based approach to expanding social protection coverage and benefits in latin america with a view to achieving universal coverage its discussion of the policy tools and programmes pursued in the region aims to provide the reader with technical and programmatic insights for assembling and coordinating public policies within consistent and sustainable social protection systems the combination of normative orientations and stock of technical knowledge together with advances regarding the rights based approach to social protection within a life cycle framework afford the reader not only a tool box of specific social protection instruments but also an in depth examination of related political economy aspects a powerful manifesto for the strength of we thinking marcus du sautoy a treasure of a book rowan williams timely and engaging ian rankin genius bettany hughes in the history of humanity almost everything we ve ever achieved has been done by groups working together like a hive of bees or a flock of birds our social and interconnected brains are designed to function best together this is collective intelligence the way in which many people come together to share their knowledge data and skills to solve huge problems these problems are too big and complicated for one person to tackle or even one organisation but with revolutionary advances in technology and ai we now have the ability to share our wisdom and knowledge much further than ever before in joined up thinking neuroscientist dr hannah critchlow provides an invaluable guide to our future through the evolving new science of collective intelligence she reveals what it says about us as human beings shares compelling examples and stories and shows how we can work intelligently and collectively in our lives to improve our wellbeing and our prospects diverse social programmes including conditional cash transfer programmes labour and production inclusion programmes and social pensions are being implemented in latin american and caribbean countries with the aim of ending poverty and reducing inequalities throughout the life cycle this book offers an up to date analysis of these programmes and the way they relate to labour inclusion and analyses ongoing debates regarding the possible incentives and disincentives they create in terms of the labour supply formalization and child labour among the target population considering that poverty is a structural problem of highly unequal societies the thesis that poverty is due to a lack of effort on the part of the poor is argued to be an expression of the strong prejudice against those living in poverty the great majority of whom work or are actively seeking employment but are hampered by the large decent work deficits existing in the region from an integrated and rights based perspective public policies should simultaneously address the twofold challenge of social and labour inclusion in order to achieve basic thresholds of well being by ensuring income universal access to good quality social services and opportunities for decent work
