designed for nursing research students and nurses conducting qualitative studies. This text exemplifies qualitative methods with case studies, ethnography, and phenomenology.

written for nurses and nursing students. Nursing Research: A Qualitative Perspective, fifth edition, defines qualitative research and presents information on the current state of this important field.

this book introduces a methodology for the construction of a comprehensive narrative description and narrative-based theory from the study of multiple populations. The book has two parallel foci: on the one hand, it is a conceptual treatise focusing on the principles of the multiple case narrative; on the other hand, it also has a practical how-to focus with a step-by-step guide to conducting a multiple case narrative. The book is accessible and comprehensive and addresses both those in the field as well as those with little background in the methodologies of narrative study and qualitative research. This book is also relevant to those who are interested in other qualitative varieties like single and collective narrative inquiry, single and collective case study, as well as ethnography, because each of the procedures and techniques described here can be easily utilized for conducting other types of qualitative research.

provides readers with the necessary background information needed for understanding the uses of qualitative research in education. This new edition places qualitative research within current debates about research methods and alternative ways of knowing.

the major purpose of the workshop setting a global agenda for the nineties was to identify an agenda for the international council for distance education (ICDE). Sponsored research, three papers that were prepared for the workshop make up the major part of this report. 1. Marrow Bone: Thinking toward a fair representation of qualitative research in distance education. Elizabeth J. Burge. 2. Concepts of experimental inquiry in distance education: a systems perspective. Dan O. Coldeway. and 3. On European distance education research. Borje Holmberg. It is noted in the preface that outcomes of this workshop include an agenda of eight projects and the development of the distance education online symposium, DEOS, which allows researchers to communicate with colleagues worldwide using Bitnet, Internet, EARN, and other internationally accessible computer conference networks. Three appendixes contain the agenda of the workshop program, research questions arising from the workshop, and a list of the names and addresses of the workshop participants each paper includes an extensive bibliography
