the passive house concept has become increasingly popular in the building sector in the last twenty years and is deemed to play on important role in aligning the housing sector with climate and environmental policy objectives however for such buildings to play this part they need to be more widespread more common and more accepted by mainstream actors and institutions the deployment of passive houses involves changes and adaptations in different parts of society it involves changes in institutional and organisational set ups and it involves market and regulatory changes previous research on passive houses has focused on demonstration projects or has taken for granted that a dissemination will lead to a full scale transition of the building sector this puts undue focus on emerging actors and technologies emerging in isolation this thesis investigates the wider deployment of passive houses with a focus on mainstreaming this means that focus is on different social arenas where the deployment of passive houses is negotiated between multiple actors this thesis contributes to a comprehensive picture of how passive house deployment is shaped through a study of attempts to mainstream these buildings in sweden it shows how such attempts have been partially successful in specific companies and regions but it also show how a normalization of these buildings has been limited due to market regulatory and political developments passivhuskonceptet har blivit allt populärare under de senaste tjugo åren och bedöms spela en viktig roll för att anpassa bostadssektorn till klimat och miljöpolitiska mål för att sådana byggnader ska kunna göra skillnad måste de dock få en större utbredning och bli accepterade av etablerade aktörer och institutioner utbyggnaden av passivhus innebär förändringar och anpassningar i olika delar av samhället dessa innefattar institutionella och organisatoriska förändringar samt marknadsförändringar och en anpassad lagstiftning tidigare forskning har framförallt studerat demonstrationsprojekt eller har tagit för givet att en spridning av passivhus kommer att leda till en fullskalig omställning av byggsektorn detta lägger otillbörligt fokus på nya aktörer och tekniker som utvecklats utan bredare social förankring denna avhandling studerar utbyggnaden av passivhus med fokus på mainstreaming det innebär att fokus ligger på olika sociala arenor där spridningen av passivhus förhandlas mellan nya och etablerade aktörer avhandlingen bidrar till att presentera en övergripande bild av hur passivhusutbyggnad tar form genom en studie av försök att sprida dessa byggnader i sverige avhandlingen visar hur sådana försök delvis har lyckats i specifika företag och regioner men den visar också hur en normalisering av dessa byggnader har varit begränsad på grund av marknads lagstiftnings och politiska aspekter
