the deluxe edition of leaders eat last now with an expanded chapter and appendix on leading millennials includes over 30 minutes of exclusive video and 30 minutes of audio of simon sinek the acclaimed bestselling author of start with why and together is better delves deeper into book s themes and shares additional examples and insights imagine a world where almost everyone wakes up inspired to go to work feels trusted and valued during the day then returns home feeling fulfilled this is not a crazy idealized notion today in many successful organizations great leaders create environments in which people naturally work together to do remarkable things in his work with organizations around the world simon sinek noticed that some teams trust each other so deeply that they would literally put their lives on the line for each other other teams no matter what incentives are offered are doomed to infighting fragmentation and failure why the answer became clear during a conversation with a marine corps general officers eat last he said sinek watched as the most junior marines ate first while the most senior marines took their place at the back of the line what s symbolic in the chow hall is deadly serious on the battlefield great leaders sacrifice their own comfort even their own survival for the good of those in their care too many workplaces are driven by cynicism paranoia and self interest but the best ones foster trust and cooperation because their leaders build what sinek calls a circle of safety that separates the security inside the team from the challenges outside sinek illustrates his ideas with fascinating true stories that range from the military to big business from government to investment banking summary of leaders eat last why some teams pull together and others don t a comprehensive summary part 1 first job to do is to make people feel safe the first part of the book and the first chapter is about providing cover for your people since people within a team push hard and take risks one of the most important things a leader needs to do is to provide cover for them the truth is that the world is filled with all kinds of dangers because of that the very first thing a leader should do is to create something the author calls a circle of safety this circle of safety should then be expanded as time passes after the short intro the author explains four main chemicals that human bodies automatically generate each of these chemicals is then explained so that the readers know what each of them does to a human body the first is endorphins these chemicals make us feel good when we work out and when we push hard the second is dopamine dopamine generates a sense of accomplishment when we do certain things serotonin gives us a sense of pride when other people admire and love what we do oxytocin gives us a feeling of friendship love and deep trust the thing with our bodies is that it is natural for them to crave endorphins and dopamine these two hormones motivate us to do something however these two chemicals should not be the only chemicals our bodies crave if that is the case then we become cold blooded in pursuit of our goals there are two to be continued here is a preview of what you will get a full book summary an analysis fun quizzes quiz answers etc get a copy of this summary and learn about the book
