shortlisted for the orange prize for fiction 2006 and winner of the 2006 prix du meilleur livre Étranger the history of love by bestselling author nicole krauss explores the lasting power of the written word and the lasting power of love when i was born my mother named me after every girl in a book my father gave her called the history of love fourteen year old alma singer is trying to find a cure for her mother s loneliness believing she might discover it in an old book her mother is lovingly translating she sets out in search of its author across new york an old man called leo gursky is trying to survive a little bit longer he spends his days dreaming of the love lost that sixty years ago in poland inspired him to write a book and although he doesn't know it yet that book also survived crossing oceans and generations and changing lives wonderfully affecting brilliant touching and remarkably poised sunday telegraph a tender tribute to human valiance who could be unmoved by a cast of characters whose daily battles are etched on out mind in such diamond cut prose independent on sunday devastating one of the most passionate vindications of the written word in recent fiction it takes one's breath away spectator nicole krauss is an american bestselling author who has received international critical acclaim for her first three novels great house shortlisted for the orange prize for fiction 2011 the history of love and man walks into a room shortlisted for the la times book award all of which are available in penguin paperback essay from the year 2006 in the subject english language and literature studies literature grade keine universität von innsbruck language english abstract this is a proseminary work for a literature course and it is about the history of love the contemporary american novel is written by nicole krauss and was published in 2005 by now it has been translated into more than twenty five languages krauss back cover the paper will start with the biography of the author and her connection to the novel and to its content the next and main chapters will then deal with the novel itself which takes place in new york in the time after the 2nd world war and which is told through various stories perspectives and characters the paper's focus will lie on two very important and story defining themes loneliness and love the main question of this paper will be in which way loneliness and love belong together and how this inextricable connection is portrayed in the book this will further be pointed out through the relationship and personality of chosen characters alma and leo gursky to make it more understandable a short plot and character overview will be given at the beginning of the paper the paper will be ended by a conclusion which sums up all results of my research and analysis and which gives answers to the main question of this paper love often seems uncontrollable and irrational but we just as frequently appear to have reasons for loving the people we do in love's vision troy jollimore offers a new way of understanding love that accommodates both of these facts arguing that love is guided by reason even as it resists and sometimes eludes rationality at the same time he reconsiders love's moral status acknowledging its moral dangers while arguing that it is at heart a moral phenomenon an emotion that demands empathy and calls us away from excessive self concern love is revealed as neither wholly moral nor deeply immoral neither purely rational nor profoundly irrational rather as diotima says in plato's symposium love is something in between jollimore makes his case by proposing a vision view of love according to which loving is a way of seeing that involves bestowing charitable attention on a loved one this view recognizes the truth in the cliché love is blind but holds that love's blindness does not undermine the idea that love is guided by reason reasons play an important role in love even if they rest on facts that are not themselves rationally justifiable filled with illuminating examples from literature love's vision is an original examination of a subject of vital philosophical and human concern charlotte brontë dedicated jane eyre to william makepeace thackeray setting literary london ablaze with gossip ayn rand dedicated atlas shrugged to both her husband and her lover sylvia plath dedicated the bell jar to her friends and f scott fitzgerald dedicated the great gatsby to his wife zelda the tumultuous love of his life the dedication of a novel is the most personal and public of gestures and yet we don't often stop to consider how it came to be inspired this charming behind the scenes book traces the relationships immortalized in the dedications to fifty novels that are an intrinsic part of literary and pop culture sometimes tragic often romantic and always engaging these are intimate glimpses into the lives of the writers we admire and the people they loved to be continued discusses forms of creating narrative continuation such as adventure parody the saga format fan fiction seriality spin offs in case studies ranging from the 18th century to the present narrative structure novels organized by tight plot constructions are rather rare episodic structures are the rule the number of episodic sequences is not fixed the narrative closure of episodes is preliminary and the interrelation of episodes is open to retrospective reconfiguration which makes additions and further narrative elaborations a constant option intertextual links novels can thus be seen as experiments which use the modification of existing elements and the introduction of new elements to indicate and conceptualize cultural change seriality and parody mark the extremely divergent forms such experiments can employ to write on or to re write to quote affirmatively ironically or satirically are basic forms of building traditions or of revising them and can be related to conflicts over literary economic or symbolic capital for the reader the entertainment value of a text may increase or decrease with the familiarity of a story world with its specific characters the economy of attention the level of affective bonding and their consequences identification revulsion or boredom are molded by continuation there are thousands of books that represent the holocaust but can and should the act of reading these works convey the events of genocide to those who did not experience it in textual silence literary scholar jessica lang asserts that language itself is a barrier between the author and the reader in holocaust texts and that this barrier is not a lack of substance but a defining characteristic of the genre holocaust texts which encompass works as diverse as memoirs novels poems and diaries are traditionally characterized by silences the authors place throughout the text both deliberately and unconsciously while a reader may have the desire and will to comprehend the holocaust the presence of textual silence is a force that removes the experience of genocide from the reader's analysis and imaginative recourse lang defines silences as omissions that take many forms including the use of italics and quotation marks ellipses and blank pages in poetry and the presence of unreliable narrators in fiction while this limits the reader's ability to read in any conventional sense these silences are not flaws they are instead a critical presence that forces readers to acknowledge how words and meaning can diverge in the face of events as unimaginable as those of the holocaust
