a pioneering study on the causes and consequences of the dutch famine of 1944 1945 germany invaded the netherlands in the spring of 1940 life in occupied holland was hideous enough but for the dutch the worst was yet to come after the western allies lost the battle of arnhem in september 1944 the dutch provinces north of the rhine and waal rivers were in the hands of the germans and to the south fighting raged for months in the winter of 1944 45 just as other parts of europe were being liberated the dutch seemed forsaken by the allies who bypassed holland on their drive to berlin that last winter of the war with its severe food and fuel shortages was a terrible one for the dutch people who also suffered from episodes of nazi terrorism in some provinces there was nothing to eat but tulip bulbs and sugar beets and eighteen thousand dutch civilians actually starved to death henri van der zee who was ten years old that winter remembers what happened to his people the true story of a little known yet remarkable world war ii operation which had all the hallmarks of a suicide mission beginning with a crazy plan hatched by a suspect prince and an even crazier reliance on the word of the nazis operation chowhound was devised between may 1 and may 8 1945 2 268 military units flown by the usaaf dropped food to 3 5 million starving dutch civilians in german occupied holland it took raw courage to fly on operation chowhound as american aircrews never knew when the german aaa might open fire on them or if luftwaffe fighters might jump them flying at 400 feet barely above the tree tops with guns pointed directly at them they would have no chance to bail out if their b 17s were hit and yet over eight days 120 000 german troops kept their word and never fired on the american bombers as they flew grateful dutch civilians spelled out thanks boys in the tulip fields below many americans who flew in operation chowhound would claim it was the best thing they did in the war in this gripping narrative author stephen dando collins takes the reader into the rooms where operation chowhound was born into the aircraft flying the mission and onto the ground in the netherlands with the civilians who so desperately needed help james bond creator ian fleming hollywood actress audrey hepburn as well as roosevelt eisenhower and churchill all play a part in this story creating a compelling narrative read this comprehensive two volume encyclopedia examines specific famines throughout history and contains entries on key topics related to food production security and policies and famine giving readers an in depth look at food crises and their causes responses to them and outcomes famines have claimed more lives across human history than all the wars ever fought this two volume set represents the most comprehensive study of food and famine currently available providing the broadest analysis of hunger and famine causes as well as a detailed examination of the ramifications of cultural and natural hazards upon famine volume one focuses upon 50 topics and issues relating to the creation of hunger and famines in the world from 4000 bce to 2100 including an overview of how agriculture has evolved from primitive hunting and gathering that supported limited numbers of people to a worldwide system that now feeds over seven billion people volume two entitled classic famines begins with famines of the past from 4000 bce to 2100 ce includes ten classic famine case studies and concludes with predictions of famines we could see in the 21st century and beyond this book draws together social cultural and political history to show us how we came to have a moral political and social responsibility toward the hungry vernon forcefully reminds us how many perished from hunger in the empire and reveals how their history was intricately connected with the precarious achievements of Britain's welfare state

Mass violence comes not only from states but also from people by analyzing mass violence as social interaction through survivor accounts and other sources this book presents understudied agents aims and practices of direct violence and ways of action of those under persecution sound history examining the noises of mass violence and persecution is particularly telling about such practices this volume shows that violence can become socially hegemonic and some people claim a freedom to kill as a political right to scrutinize indirect violence which is often imperialist in character and claims many victims the book proposes the concept of conditions of violence these conditions are produced by definable groups of actors and foreseeably harm definable groups which differs from the anonymous and static structural violence this is exemplified in a case study concerning famines in World War II and another on COVID-19 as mass violence less global in character other case studies in this volume deal with Rwanda Bangladesh East Pakistan and the Soviet Union

The Crucified Island how Texel sank in a sea of blood in April 1945 the tragic story of the Georgian legionnaires uprising against the Wehrmacht at the end of World War II

Current debates about the nature of international politics have centered on the clash between supporters and critics of realism the perils of anarchy brings together a number of recent essays written in the realist tradition it includes realist interpretations of the collapse of the Cold War order and of the emerging order that has replaced it the sources of alignment and aggression and the causes of peace a final section provides a counterpoint by raising criticisms of and alternatives to the realist approach contributors Charles I Glaser Christopher Layne Peter Liberman Lisa I Martin John J Mearsheimer Paul Schroeder Randall Schweller Stephen M Walt Kenneth N Waltz William C Wohlforth Fareed Zakaria an international security reader
