from its beginnings the church has presented itself as a human phenomenon that carries the divine within it as a social fact its reality given form by men and women the church has always affirmed that its existence surpasses the human reality of its components and that it stands as the continuation of the event of christ's entry into human history why the church the final volume in mcgill queen's university press's trilogy of luigi giussani's writings explores the church's definition of itself as both human and divine and evaluates the truth of this claim as a young priest luigi giussani was troubled by catholicism's inability to effectively deal with secularism or laicism in 1954 he began to develop a vision of faith rooted in experience his ideas resonated with students and led to the birth of the gioventù studentesca student youth movement known today as communion and liberation the movement is flourishing in italy and around the world including canada the united states brazil uganda and britain the journey to truth is an experience is the first english translation of il cammino al vero è un'esperienza giussani's early works on the christian experience written from 1959-64 it begins with a guide on how to live the christian life within the student youth community followed by a call to base one's relationship with christ on the example set by the apostles and other figures in the new testament giussani concludes by outlining the movement's mission and the possibility for community charity and communion in the christian life a compilation of giussani's conversations with young people who have chosen the path of the laws mandating cooperation with the state s new sexual orthodoxy are among the leading contemporary threats to the religious freedom of catholic institutions in the united states these demand that catholic schools health care providers or social services cooperate with contraception cohabitation abortion same sex marriage or transgender identity and surgeries but catholic institutions responses seem thin and uninspiring to many they are criticized as legalistic authoritarian bureaucratic retrograde and hurtful to women and to persons who identify as lgbtq they are even called unchristian they invite disrespect both for catholic sexual responsibility norms and for religious freedom generally not only among lawmakers and judges but also in the court of public opinion which includes skeptical catholics the u s constitution protects catholic institutions autonomy their authority over faith and doctrine internal operations and the personnel involved in personifying and transmitting the faith other constitutional and statutory provisions also safeguard religious freedom if not always perfectly catholic institutions could take far better advantage of all of these existing protections if they communicated first how they differ from secular institutions how their missions emerge from their faith in jesus christ and their efforts both to make his presence felt in the world today and to display the inbreaking of the kingdom of god second they need to draw out the link between their teachings on sexual responsibility and love of god and neighbor drawing upon scripture tradition history theology and empirical evidence helen alvaré frames a more complete inspiring and appealing response to current laws attempts to impose a new sexual orthodoxy upon catholic institutions it clarifies the ecclesial nature of catholic schools hospitals and social services it summarizes the empirical evidence supporting the link between personnel decisions and mission and between catholic sexual responsibility norms and human flourishing it grounds catholic sexual responsibility teachings in the same love of god and neighbor that animate the existence operations and services of catholic institutions in at the origin of the christian claim luigi giussani examines christ s claim to identify himself with the mystery that is the ultimate answer to our search for the meaning of existence giussani argues that if we accept the hypothesis that the mystery entered the realm of human existence and spoke in human terms the relationship between the individual and god is no longer based on a moral imaginative or aesthetic human effort but instead on coming upon an event in one s life thus the religious method is overturned by christ in christianity it is no longer the person who seeks to know the mystery but the mystery that makes himself known by entering history at the origin of the christian claim presents an intriguing argument supported with ample documentation from the gospels and other theological writing the religious sense the fruit of many years of dialogue with students is an exploration of the search for meaning in life luigi giussani shows that the nature of reason expresses itself in the ultimate need for truth goodness and beauty these needs constitute the fabric of the religious sense which is evident in every human being everywhere and in all times so strong is this sense that it leads one to desire that the answer to life s mystery might reveal itself in some way why did pope francis canonize a priest responsible for the genocide of the indians why does he wish to beatify the anti semitic french priest leon dehon what are the unmentionable reasons for his papal election pope francis is presented as progressive and sensitive to the interests of the people but underneath his smiles and his good words hides an authoritarian and dogmatic pope this pope relies on very conservative movements such as communion and liberation or the order of the knights of columbus which are close to opus dei the good pope francis is beginning to drop his mask when he declares that europe is undergoing a new arab invasion sic when he calls on catholics with a sense of identity to take to the streets when he fights against republican secularism and demonizes atheists after an overview of the financial political and sexual scandals paul ariès proceeds to a very detailed and documented analysis of the church of francis particularly in the areas of ecology and sexuality this clear book offers a surprising insight into the best communicator the church has known in a long time paul ariès is a political scientist and editor of the monthly magazine les zindigné es although he is an atheist he has been a contributor to several international catholic magazines for the past thirty years and is the author of some forty books on ecology religion and sects there is an ancient christian saying from the patristic era which is known in its most concise form as lex orandi lex credendi as the catechism of the catholic church translates it the law of prayer is the law of faith the church believes as she prays while the elegant simplicity of the phrase contains an abundance of wisdom the liturgy has always been subject to forces that threaten to reduce this understanding to partial interpretations as several observers have noted these reductions include the archeological approach explicating the liturgy s historical origins but in the process treating it as a dead letter and the sociological approach focusing on liturgy as little more than an expression of contemporary concerns in living the liturgy a witness father luigi giussani 1922 2005 restores a more balanced view reminding us that according to roberto braschi s introduction in the liturgy god is its pres ent subject and that the essence of every celebratory action is the possibility of a gaze toward him because it is always from him that the dialogue with humanity moves the memorable bracing insights in living the liturgy were taken from conversations that father giussani had with members of the international lay movement he founded communion and liberation should we battle a plural and relativistic society by raising barriers and walls or should we accept the opportunity to announce the gospel in a new way this is the challenge christians are facing today in an extended interview with vatican expert andrea tornielli julián carrón examines the historical moment we are living through in order to revive the essential core of christian faith starting from the realization that the world is experiencing an evolution in which the difficulty of finding shared values and natural morality makes sincere dialogue between believers and non believers challenging carrón reflects on the possibility of communicating the essence of the christian faith in a form that can inspire interest in modern times addressing the central questions concerning the announcement of christian faith in today s less regimented society where is god discovers and rediscovers the contents of christianity and asks how they can be witnessed again in a society that is not yet post christian but potentially headed in that direction the religious sense is an exploration of the search for meaning in life avoiding sentimental or irrational reduction of the religious experience luigi giussani shows that our ultimate needs for truth goodness and beauty constitute the fabric of the religious sense which is evident in everyone everywhere and in all times
